FOUNDER'S ADVICE

A WORD FROM THE EQUIDAM CO-FOUNDERS

An Introduction to SAAP Startup as a Product

Let us introduce you to SAAP, where the startup is the product and serves as a lead generation for other businesses. This phenomenon represents a new channel for other companies to discover a new, loyal demand for their products.

"Logic will take you from A to B. Imagination will take you everywhere."

~ Albert Einstein

COMPARING BURN RATES "AM I THE ONLY ONE SPENDING THIS MUCH?"

Do you know industry and stage of development influence the company burn rate?

Companies in the high-tech, transport and machinery fields appear to have the highest burn rates, while companies in the expansion stage burn the most on average.

SAAP

Startup as a Product

Brought to you by Equidam co-founder Gianluca Valentini

We begin with 'product'
defined:

A product is a service or item.

It can take a physical,
virtual or cyber form.

It is made at a cost and sold at a price.

Now, Lets have a look at two Business models...

Number One

Involves a product and direct sales.

Representative of most businesses.

Number Two

Involves a product offering, period.

No price tag.

Wait, What?

'Number Two' is a business model...?

Yes!

And the startup itself is the product.

The startup represents a channel for other companies to discover.. new, loyal demand for their products.

That's where the money is!

BUSINESS ANGELS VS. VENTURE CAPITALISTS

INFOGRAPHIC

BUSINESS ANGELS VS. VENTURE CAPITALISTS

BUSINESS ANGEL

Business angels are individuals--often successful business people--who are using their own funds to invest in businesses they find promising.

Venture Capitalist

Venture Capitalists manage the money that is pooled in to professionally-managed funds.

CHARACTERISTICS

BUSINESS ANGELS
SERVE AS MENTORS

VENTURE CAPITALISTS OFTEN REQUIRE A SEAT ON THE BOARD

Note that although Venture Capitalists and Business Angels are a great source of capital, this is not their only function. They are able to provide entrepreneurs with a vast network which is critical for longterm success.
